DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. Claims 1-9 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-10 of copending Application No. 10/674,023. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the limitations of the claims of the instant application are broad enough to be encompassed by the limitations of the claims of the copending Application and as such it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to implement the claims of the instant application using the claims of the copending Application in order to perform a cell update during reconfiguration in a universal mobile telecommunications system user equipment.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Kuo et al., U.S. Publication Number 2004/0203778 A1 discloses handling of a wireless device re-entering a service area.

Krishnarajah et al., U.S. Publication Number 2003/0100291 A1 discloses security reconfiguration in a universal mobile telecommunications system.
